

KYOWA PATENT AND LAW OFFICE

協和特許法律事務所

Trademark Department

Makoto Shiotani

Mr. Shiotani graduated from Nihon University, the Department of Law, in March of 1985. He worked for an electrical parts manufacturing company as a sales planning staff member for three years, and was registered as a patent attorney in December of 1990. His specialties are designs and trademarks in general. His foreign language is English.

Taku Nakagawa

Mr. Nakagawa graduated from Keio University, the Department of Economics in March of 1994. He was registered as a patent attorney in January of 1996. His specialties are trademarks and designs in general. His foreign language is English.

Kazuhiro Miyagi

Mr. Miyagi graduated from Chuo University, the Department of Law, in March of 1982, and was registered as a patent attorney in November 1994. He worked at a patent firm for 19 years before joining Kyowa. His specialties are designs and trademarks in general. His foreign language is English.

Kazuhiko Yazaki

In March of 1969, Mr. Yazaki graduated from Chuo University, the Department of Law and in November of 1979 he was registered as a patent attorney. Since then, he has specialized in designs and trademarks in general and has written "Distinctiveness of Trademarks" (The Invention, Vol. 87, No. 2). His foreign language is English.

Satoru Arai

Mr. Arai graduated from Nihon University, in March of 1995. He was registered as a patent attorney in December of 1997. His areas of specialty are design and trademark in general. His foreign language is English.

Rie Funabashi

Ms. Funabashi graduated from Seijo University, the Department of Arts and Literature in March 1996. She was registered as a patent attorney in January 2004. Her specialties are designs and trademarks in general. Her foreign language is English.

Akitaka Ukaji

Mr. Ukaji graduated from Aoyama Gakuin University, the Department of Law, in March 1993. He worked for an electronics manufacturing company for 2 years and at a patent firm for 4 years. He was registered as a patent attorney in August 2001. His areas of specialty are designs and trademarks in general. His foreign language is English.

KYOWA PATENT AND LAW OFFICE

協和特許法律事務所

Tomoki Imaoka

Mr. Imaoka graduated from Waseda University, the Department of Law, in March of 1993. He went on to graduate from the University of Nottingham's master course in International Environment Law in July 2000. He was registered as a patent attorney in June of 2005. He worked for a precision equipment manufacturer for four and half years, and worked for a patent firm for four and half years before joining Kyowa Patent and Law Office. His specialties are design and trademark in general. His foreign language is English.

Noboru Taniguchi

Mr. Taniguchi graduated from Nihon University, in March of 1995. He was registered as a patent attorney in December of 1997. He worked for other patent/law firms before joining Kyowa. His specialties are designs and trademarks in general. His foreign language is English.

Asako Wada

Ms. Wada graduated from Waseda University, the Department of Law in September 2002. She was registered as a patent attorney in April 2009. Her specialties are designs and trademarks in general. Her foreign language is English.

Yugo Endo

Mr. Endo graduated from Meiji University, the Department of Commerce, in March of 1994. He was registered as a patent attorney in November 1999. He worked for system integrator for 4 years and at a patent firm for 12 years. His specialties are designs and trademarks in general. His foreign language is English.

Masashi Kurose

After graduation from the Department of Engineering of Kyoto Institute of Technology in March of 1970, Mr. Kurose worked for four years as a designer for machinery manufacturing company. He was registered as a patent attorney in November of 1977, and his specialties are mechanical engineering in general, designs and trademarks. One of his major articles is "Intellectual Property in Asian Countries". In 2002, he received a LL.M. from Graduate School of Hitotsubashi University. He has broad experience in the field of counterfeiting matters in Asian countries. His foreign language is English.